for Mirrlees Blackstone, Paxman,
Ruston and English Electric engines

Optimising Engine Efficiency and Minimising Lifetime Costs

MAN Diesel | PrimeServ

In deciding to purchase a Mirrlees Blackstone, Paxman, Ruston or English Electric diesel engine, you made a sound investment in quality and technical excellence. These world-class engines continue to set the highest standards in terms of durability, reliability and efficiency.

There is no better way to maintain your investment and optimise your engines' performance than by using quality spare parts supplied by the original equipment manufacturer.

MAN Diesel PrimeServ UK fully maintains the brand values and quality standards of these great names with a highly competitive spare parts service, supported by expert technical advice and rapid order processing and delivery.

We are the only company to offer the full range of genuine OEM spares for this range of engines. Ours is a genuinely comprehensive, quality-based international service that will help you continue to run your engines as economically and efficiently as possible.

Guaranteed Reliability from Genuine Parts

It is well documented that non-genuine spares can cause major engine failure, and the financial and operational costs of such an eventuality could be catastrophic. Choosing our OEM spare parts means you avoid this risk and maintain your peace of mind.

All MAN Diesel PrimeServ UK parts are guaranteed by detailed identification to ensure they meet the latest design specification and by rigorous inspection and quality control, verified by certificates of authenticity. We provide the safest as well as the most financially effective long-term solutions, helping to maintain your operational capability and protect your commercial position.

Extensive Stocks at Three Locations

Our modern stores warehouse at the Stockport Service Centre houses comprehensive stocks of spare parts. We also hold generous stocks of fast-moving consumables to ensure availability direct from stock wherever possible, with further parts held at Colchester and Stamford for the Paxman and Blackstone engine ranges.

Delivering Lifetime Confidence Through Worldwide Service

Packing, Despatch and Transportation

All our Service Centres have in-house packing and transportation facilities, and are located close to International Airports, thereby ensuring prompt and efficient shipment of parts worldwide, with a 24-hour turn-round for emergency orders.

Rapid Quotation and Order Processing

Our dedicated Customer Support Team uses the latest SAP system to ensure that quotations are turned around as quickly as possible. Your order will be automatically tracked within the system and regular updates sent or made available to you via email or telephone.

Worldwide Expertise and Service

As original equipment manufacturers, our experience, knowledge and technical expertise is unsurpassed. MAN Diesel PrimeServ UK experts are available worldwide and are ready to offer immediate help wherever and whenever it is needed. Our technical staff can be contacted on a 24-hour basis and we provide further assistance through our website help files and service bulletins.

Wherever problems occur, we will seek to achieve the quickest and most effective solution, helping you to minimise downtime and return your engine to service as rapidly as possible.

Lifetime Costs and Value for Money

For most businesses, the choice of a spare parts supplier is understandably influenced by financial considerations, and in this context OEM spares are sometimes perceived as the expensive option.

However, when evaluating full lifetime costs together with the need to maximise running time and maintain optimum operational efficiency, it is clear that MAN Diesel PrimeServ UK spares actually represent the best value for money. Diesel engines are long-term investments and our spare parts service ensures that your original purchase produces the best long-term results for your business.
